Class History

It was in the year nineteen hundred forty-eight that a group of forty-eight boys and girls entered into their high school life with Mr. Charles L. Younce and Mr. John T. King as advisers. The only excitement taking place during the year was the initiation of the freshmen into the F.F.A. Club and F.H.A. Club.

The next year only forty students entered and this year we had as our advisors Miss Gladys Craven and Miss Mary K. Williams now Mrs. Phil Sloop. This part of our high school life ended with a trip to Mirror Lake where we had a wiener roast.

Then our Junior Year approached with twenty-five pupils enrolled. We had as our Junior Advisor, Mrs. S. H. Price and all of us knew what our task of nineteen-hundred-fifty-one was--the Junior-Senior Prom. After work had been started on this big project our advisor, Mrs. Price, was unable to be with us for the remainder of the year. Then Mrs. Johnson came to our rescue by taking up where Mrs. Price left off. We are very thankful to them for helping to make our Junior-Senior Prom a successful one. Eleven of the Juniors were accepted as members of the Beta Club. Even though our class had a misfortune during the year, it was finally brought to a very successful close.

Then we became the "dignified seniors" with Miss Ina Stevenson as our adviser. This year our class had twenty-nine students enrolled. The class elected Phyllis Graham as president. Then the annual staff was elected. About two and one half weeks after school had begun we received our rings.

Our high-school life has been a very successful and happy one. We, the seniors, of fifty-two hope that the underclassmen will have as happy and successful high-school-life as we have had. With this we must say "Goodby".

Last Will and Testament

We, the seniors of the class of 1952, being of strong bodies, superior intelligence, and unmarred consciences, endeavor to leave to the underclassmen of Mount Ulla School certain traits and reputations never before acquired in the said institution. Realizing that our achievements have been outstanding and beyond reproach, we ask that they accept these characteristics generously bestowed upon them.

First, to our parents, for their loving care and faithful trust, we leave our hopes that our lives may be as successful as their fondest dreams would have them be.

Second, to Miss Ina Stevenson, Mr. C. L. Barnhardt and the entire faculty, we leave our thanks and appreciation for their kind efforts and lasting patience, during the past years.

Third, as individuals we leave this, our Last Will and Testament.

I, Peggy Orbison, leave my U. S. History book, to my little brother Derrell, hoping that he can pass it on something better than I.

I, J. B. Graham, leave my baseball suit to O.H. Eargle.

We, Phyllis Graham and Lois Weast, leave our seats on bus 45 to the lower classmen that have been fighting for them.

I, Ruby Lipe, leave my innocent blushes to Shirlene Edwards.

We, Walter Kluttz, Jimmy Miller, Richard Sloan and Edward Wolfe, leave our Dixiecrat corner in Miss Stevenson's room to Wayne McWilliams Farrell Brown, Jimmy McBride, and Philip Kirk; hoping that it will bring them as much success in voting as it did to us.

I, Alex Morrow, leave my love for baseball, to anyone who likes it as well as I.

I, Vivian Newton, leave my ability of not going with anyone to Nancy Connelly.

I, Peggy Winecoff, leave my love for Algebra, to my sister Phyllis, hoping she'll have as good a teacher as I.

I, Anne Parker, leave the ability of having to take only three subjects my senior year, to any junior who can arrange it.

I, Polly Graham, leave my ability not to date my whole senior year, to anyone who might have this misfortune.

I, Bobby Miller, will my inability to gain weight to Jimmy Graham.

I, Gladys McDaniel, leave the back seat on bus 58 to Shirley and Barbara Jean, behave girls.

We, Richard Edmiston, Harry Hall, and C. L. Edwards leave seven happy teachers to the juniors.

I, Phyllis Kennerly, leave my seat in English to my little sister, Pat, hoping she will study more than I did.

I, Frances Steele, leave my surplus amount of blood which rushes to my face at unexpected moments, to anyone who happens to have that handicap.

I, Annie Graham, leave my ability to be quiet in study hall to Paul Graham.

I, Rachel Webb, leave my job as assistant librarian to any girl who can do it better than I.

I, Patty Oliphant, will my quiet manner to any junior who is able to be quiet in such a loud crowd.

I, Doris Graham, whole heartedly leave No. 6 basketball suit (my pride and joy for four years) to Peggy Lowrance hoping she'll treat it with as much respect as I did.

I, Garland Briggs, leave my ability to get out of school in less than fourteen years to Smithy Petrea, hoping he can do it.

I, Nita Correll, will my little brother Norman all my study halls, hoping he will use them better than I.

I, Elizabeth Eargle, leave my school bus to Gilda Owens in hope that she will have less trouble than I had keeping it swept out each morning.

And I, being of sound mind and body, do hereby affix my signature to this, the Last Will and Testament of the class of 1952.

Class Prophecy

The other day, professor Swami, the famed fortune-teller was in Salisbury; so I decided to pay him a little visit to learn what the class of '52 was going to do in years to come. As I went into his tent, I was amazed by its impressive appearance. However, I went up to his table, laid a list of the names of my classmates in front of him, and asked if he could look into their futures. He said that he could do so very easily and began looking into the crystal ball very intently.

"In 1965, Phyllis Graham will become chief editor of the New York Times.

A few years after graduation, Alex Morrow will be star player and manager of the Boston Red Sox; while Jimmy Miller will be president of his own baseball club called the Miller's Maulers.

Gladys McDaniel and Vivian Newton will open the McDaniel-Newton Beauty Salon in Salisbury in 1962, and Ruby Lipe will be making a world wide reputation as a fashion designer in Paris at that time.

Several years hence, Garland Briggs will open the Brigg's Automotive Repair Company just outside of Salisbury near the home of Walter Kluttz, the head football coach at Notre Dame.

Richard Edmiston and C. L. Edwards will become well-known as co-owners of the huge Edmiston-Edwards Dairy which will cover 6400 acres.

Peggy Orbison will write the book, Eat More and More, which will make the 1965 best-seller list.

Frances Steele will marry right after graduation and she and her husband will move to Florida, where he will run a large orange plantation.

Anne Parker will open a nursery called Parker-Park-Your-Child-Nursery.

In 1962, Polly Graham will be known as the wife of the famous Air Force General Ted Kepley.

Rachel Webb will be secretary to a great importing establishment in New York and Phyllis Kennerly will be a secretary in a California fruit-growing firm.

J. B. Graham will organize the Graham's Hillbilly Orchestra, which will play at the Stork Club.

Mitchell Cress will become a well-known farmer and philosopher.

Patty Jo Oliphant will become the Society reporter for the Salisbury Post.

Nita Correll, who is a talented artist, will become a Hollywood motion picture artist.

In the political field, Bobby Miller will become world famous as the man who settled the Cold War. He will be ambassador to Russia and will lead the United States and Russia to a peaceful understanding.

The man who will be North Carolina's Governor in 1972 will be none other than Edward Wolfe, who will go in on the Dixiecrate ticket.

Elizabeth Eargle will be head of the English department at the consolidated schools of Mt. Ulla, Cleveland, Woodleaf, and Hurley.

Annie Graham will become head nurse at John Hopkins Hospital.

Doris Graham, who is a fine French student, will become French interpreter at the U. N..

Peggy Winecoffe will move to Texas and by 1965, she will be the owner of a giant ranch there.

Lois Weast will become ski instructor at Sun Valley, Idaho, and will be the head of a fine ski team.

In the mid-'60's, Harry Hall will be known as the owner of one of the largest farms in the state."

"And you," Prof. Swami said, pointing at me, "Will be the assistant head book-keeper at General Motors."

"Many thanks, Swami," I said. Then I shook hands with him and left.

The Voyage of Life

The time now comes to sail away
O'er the broad and infinite sea of life;
In our fragile vessel we may
Be serene in sweet peace or tow in bitter strife.

Let us look for comfort not in the past
But diligently seek our reward from the future year
So that, in time we may furl o'er our mast
The glorious and triumphant banner of rest so dear.

May we not drift as the trade winds blow,
But use the wisdom we have gained to guide our course,
We should not forget the great debt we owe
To those of the past and then sail on without remorse.

When at last we near our journey's end,
If long and true and pure be our wake
'tis then we shall leave to ascend
The great high road our peace to make.

LINGERING THOUGHTS

Our thoughts linger on with the years that have passed,
The teachers and classmates, we'll never forget.
Now those days have all ended, we wish they could last;
Our days spent together we'll never regret.

Chorus

Oh Mt. Ulla School we must leave you now.
Parting is sorrow and our heads we do bow.
Our love and devotion we'll store in our hearts,
And all through the years we will cherish thee.

There is a Future in TEXTILES

The world’s oldest manufacturing industry—textiles—is today one of our most exciting and challenging industries, producing revolutionary textile products with qualities which men have sought for centuries. Man-made fibers, new products of the chemist’s test-tube, have been a major contributor to this textile progress.

A small textile producer in 1923, Burlington Mills believed in the future of rayon—an early man-made fiber. In the past 28 years Burlington has become a leader in the development and production of beautiful, durable and high-quality filament, spun and knit synthetic fabrics.

If you are a young man or woman looking for a place in industry, we think you should consider textiles—and Burlington. It can hold a bright future for the person with the willingness to learn, ability to work, and the natural interest in this fascinating and competitive field.
